

Newsworthy Event

Jonah Lasley walked away with first prize victory at the Library's Pie Contest. The blueberry pie's secret burst of flavor is attributed to Jonah's substitution of pineapple-orange juice to the recipe rather than plain orange juice. With an astounding 26 bean vote, Jonah won first place. Kudos also extend to our other homemade pie contributors included Basil Considine, Cassidy Campbell, and Laura Perryman.

Even though this is Jonah's second pie in his life to bake (the first being the practice pie before the event), an unnamed source close to the winner reveals that Jonah's cooking aspirations started at an early age with a childhood Christmas present of a cookbook and apron. Are his cooking skills limited to pie baking? Will Jonah be a threat to the Library Chili Cookoff this winter? We shall wait to see in January.

From The Card
Catalog:
September
Issue

A monthly newsletter for
the UTC Library
Faculty Staff

Updates

Writing Center

WCC, Beth Leahy reports:

"In its first 4 weeks of the semester the WCC has already conducted over 200 consultations with 139 writers!"

Special Collections

Visit the 4th floor to see our new exhibits! In the Roth Grand Reading Room, check out two displays: "Rising Waters: Life in the Trenches of World War I" and "Training for The Great War: Chattanooga's Role"

IT

Lib IT have been working on a variety of things: finishing up summer stats for reports, learning about AWS cloud infrastructure, upgrading the proxy server, finishing up OU Campus edits, and other IT items

Instruction

R&I is thrilled to have a practicum student this semester. Some of you may recognize English Professor Linnea Minnich who has been lured to the dark side...er, librarianship

In Other News

UTC Service Awards

September 11, 2018, UTC hosted their annual Service Awards Luncheon. The Library was well represented with Chapel Cowden and Laird Leathers, recognized for their 10 years of service, and Laura Perryman, Carolyn Runyon, and Chantelle Swaren, recognized for their 5 years of service. Everyone received a framed award and service pin as well as acknowledgment by Chancellor Angle and UT President Joe DiPietro. Thanks for all you do!

Library Birthdays:

Elisabeth Ferguson 9/4
Megan Coleman 9/22
Agnes Fellner 9/24

Upcoming Library Events

Library Check In 10/10
Library Open House 10/31

Fall 2018 No.1