

Newsworthy Event

Current and former WCC staff presented at the International Writing Centers Association annual conference October 10-13 in Atlanta! Agnes Fellner presented with two students, current peer consultant Jacquelyn Scott and former grad consultant Danyell Luster, in a panel titled "Where Do We Draw the Line? Mindful Perspectives on Opposing Viewpoints in the Writing Center." Our former grad assistant Elaine Gunn presented on "rapid assessment," a strategy she developed to help gauge learning styles. Beth Leahy presented her research on faculty perceptions of the writing center.

Peer consultant Jacquelyn Scott's participation in IWCA was funded by travel grants from both IWCA and URACE. This is an example of the wonderful research our students do that is supported by the Office of Undergraduate Research and Creative Endeavor (URACE).

From The Card Catalog: October Issue

A monthly newsletter for the UTC Library Faculty Staff

Updates

Instruction

Join us in welcoming back Natalie from maternity leave, just in time for Halloween on October 31!

Collections

Exciting news for those who want to donate books! The Collections department has developed a new, extra efficient workflow for processing book donations.

IT

Library IT inches one step closer toward hiring an Applications Coordinator (who seem to regenerate like Doctor Who). Otherwise, we continue to exist.

Studio

The first Zine issue has published! The Zine publication gives Studio student workers a real life experience in running a complete project. The second Zine is due to release on Halloween!

In Other News

Please join Patron Experience in welcoming our three new(-ish) Part-Time Public Service Specialists to the Library: Haley Ogle, Megha Patel, and Joy Vallandingham.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Top Photo: Agnes Fellner, Danyell Luster, Jacquelyn Scott

<sup>2</sup> Bottom Photo: Beth Leahy, Elaine Gunn, Danyell Luster, Jacquelyn Scott, Agnes Fellner

Message from Admin:

In November 2018, your health insurance premium won't be deducted from your paycheck. A one-time break from your premium just in time for the Holidays!

Library Birthdays:

Cassidy Campbell 10/18
Beth Leahy 10/27

Upcoming Library Events

Library Open House 10/31
Library Check In 11/14
Thanksgiving 11/22

Fall 2018 No.2